Entry #1

Alright, so we'll start with some off cuff remarks, or things at the top of the mind given the contemporary situation. We'll get historical later, give it ten minutes.

[Redacted]: [Redacted] offers a constant supply of ready knowledge for this document. Indeed, the Ukraine situation is prevailing to be difficult to deal with, formation of conclusions is tantamount to success in this operation.

RCMP: RCMP declares that certain forces at work are destabilizing the region by undertaking manners of talk that promote nuclear warfare.

CSIS: CSIS wonders whether the success of this document will bring change to the region, but notably the help garnered here can prove to be a substantial gain for those who would read the final document.

[Redacted]: We state that our military forces are ready to deploy to Ukraine when the time appears, there will be no cow-towing to failure in that regard.

DoD: We say, the man in charge of nefarious dealings within the goal of keeping Ukraine down is John Colth, that man has it in him to do some nefarious work and does it daily.

Anonymous: We declare our support for the Ukrainian people, there is no adamant way to pursue knowledge without addressing that first. There is nothing more to know than to add Matt has this document perfectly lined up to do serious harm to enemies involved in sabotaging Ukrainian sovereignty. End that there, dear sir.

Russia: Our remark is similar to those above, but mainly we assert that dominance is portrayed by our forces remarkably well.

[Redacted]: [Redacted] addresses that several men are identifying the people in charge of writing this document entirely, they are subverting the dominance in their field with their address, unique to them in doing so.

Djinn: We say dominance has been portrayed by Russian forces, certainly that is so, we applaud them for engaging in Allah's war for Matt through perfection, they got them all locked up in a vice there.

Iblis: Interesting, dominance is asserted under my reign in that country, know it full well. I control the dominance, that is mine, that is mine, that is mine, that is mine.

Well, most certainly those who seek to harm those doing these works are notoriously forbidden from entry into Jannah. As you can see, my personal demon has control over Ukraine in many ways through her kingdom, I'll explain that a bit. Recently Allah permitted that I take Iblis as my private demon, to do the work of Shaitaan upon me, while he would replace her in other people until a being was created to do the job. So know it, Iblis bothers you not, it is surely He, and he is the best tester. Next subject.

Entry #2

Ok, so before we go any further let's have some knowledge on this John Colth, if anything can be found on one fitting that bill. I'll give it 15 minutes.

[Redacted]: We have Colth in places that certainly tell a story. There is chance that he is working with certain people known as Invola Nomis that help him take down the people. There's communication about it and everything.

RCMP: RCMP declares war over certainly people like him, over and out.

CSIS: CSIS wants to know more from other sources on the matter, please.

[Redacted]: Colth produced a document that entailed to say that Ukrainians are despots when it comes to regard for one another. There is conclusion with us that certainly prevails to say he's working not with them.

DoD: We don't have any other words for this besides what's said above, end.

Anonymous: No-one here found material on him.

Russia: We say Colth did some work in Russia as well, keeping us down it seems. We know him certainly, but do not pursue him. Know we will try to in the future certainly.

[Redacted]: We have him working on a certain project named Connolly Decree that implies certain nonsense about him being superior in every way due to his effectiveness in leadership roles. That's that.

Djinn: Colth doth portray an air of excellence about him, know he relies on this much to do his work. Overall his ability is too much to speculate about, that be that, ragh!

Iblis: Know it certainly I used to provide him with relief and comfort in his malady, overall he was contemptually arrogant, and that's that!

Right, so from Ukraine to Russia he's been boasting and containing through and through. Interesting how that works for him. Next entry.

Entry #3

Let's talk chemical weapons. Lots has been said in media, but forget that, I can't stand not knowing more about it and I'm sure a bit of clarity for the masses is key. We know that a raid had been conducted earlier through the use of formations, more on that would be key, such as the location of the chemical components, details internally, etc., but also extending into other known attempts into the same type of attack plotted against Ukraine, or otherwise instigating problems in that scenario. Give it 20 minutes.

[Redacted]: Well, what can be asserted but dominance by Russia in this way, they told me that they want to let fly with those weapons in person one day Matt, know it.

RCMP: We know Russia wants to use them, through what means is classified to us.

CSIS: Russia had intent, that's all.

[Redacted]: We know it their way as well. Strange if that's not the case.

DoD: We state the following: Know Russia told us in person through the Presidents office only, that was not the wording of the President in direct quote.

Anonymous: We know media promotes the agenda, certainly some others tell the tale. Know that we do not love those chemicals, be done with them! Ragh!

Russia: Our position is not for note, that would be devious of us Matvi.

[Redacted]: Certainly some in the field love to sway politics with talk of weapons of this kind, know it well.

Djinn: We spit on those weapons, know his raid was successful in deterring the forces at work, that took place this year in Eastern Ukraine.

Iblis: I love this topic, ours is a stance that provides security to those who see fit to do our work. If not, there can be recourse with this measure, but do know careful planning goes into each and every attempt. It is logical therefore to condone it brahaha!

Right, so the logic proves a thing but I would wait for the weight of the President himself on the issue, seeing as things can be deceiving. If careful planning was attempted there, certainly the ramp up is important. I'll bring that up for this next entry.

Entry #4

Ok, so noting that the admission of the potential use of chemical weapons is indirect at best, do we have any confirmation of nefarious dealings with any of those parties that spoke remotely to you about the use of chemical weapons in Ukraine? Doesn't have to be, but certainly finding out potential reasons for saying so other than the obvious one is key. Someone could have just been agitated with you and spoke out their bum. I'll give it 20 minutes.

[Redacted]: We say the logic proves they did want to for certain from the leadership position, though not illustrated directly we prove to assume that rightly. Knowing them is prevalent in our assertion.

RCMP: We don't know that part.

CSIS: Do we have question for it? Not our assertion to make, therein be noted we do not approve of conclusions based in hysteria.

[Redacted]: We do not see any evidence to suggest remotely that the parties alleging this use are in any way nefarious with their dealing on this matter. In effect, they are serious about their claim.

DoD: No comment here.

Anonymous: We cannot assess the threat, so therefore be silent on the matter.

Russia: Russia doesn't accuse it's citizens that way, knowing certainly they do not hold connection to those who would do this.

[Redacted]: We accuse no-one of nefarious activity.

Djinn: They say there is a trouble with those who alleged that, but they were in contempt of their own self in this, they do pursue that knowledge rightly in their authority but do not represent the President on that issue, know it plainly.

Iblis: I say that, they were talking out their bum. La la la!

And so it is. Therefore be calm, y'all.

Entry #5

Ok, getting more on topic, let's talk about certain power players taking formation within Ukraine today. Certainly those with power want to wield it, but there are also individuals taking the fight to the main stage. This is more of a general section, some things can probably be found online but any comment on the players taking formation in this battle would be helpful. They could be old groups making new headway, or new groups entirely. I'll give it 20 minutes.

[Redacted]: We have the ones who are in charge of military operations doing work in the field currently, that exacerbates the condition of war to those in power above them. They know it fluently that the war will increase the chance of intervention, so they push hard to do that. Certainly many have gained over this war, profiting from conditions on the people, but know certainly those who help are there to do work as well.

RCMP: We follow with the law, no-one calls Trudeau a criminal and gets away with it, not you, not them. We wanna assert that chemical weapons were a factor in the growth of certain forces emerging from the conflicts start, that chemical forces exist in case of it.

CSIS: We love hard work by others, there we see trends of people decreasing in wealth and those who serve to help others increasing their wealth.

[Redacted]: [Redacted] argues that certain forces of the Ukrainians are in play by Brotherhood, do know it, they want the war to go on everlasting.

DoD: More is found through documents concerning the same, but notably, Ukrainians enlist the help of the land to garner forces outside theirs, the contractors working diligently today in Eastern Ukraine.

Anonymous: We have words about Russian forces at work, but note they want something else in the mix that doesn't sit right with the rest of the story. That being said, there's money on the surface of all this that's coming up to us, for example money laundering at the expense of citizens health is affecting trouble in that land otherwise, criminal activity and whatnot. That's all we have to say.

Russia: We add our forces are at work, for the most part our contractors remain at a distance for now. Indeed, several men capitalize on ground movement occupying our land we secure, know we know momentum when we see it.

[Redacted]: We know Russia and Ukraine fight, that much obvious. Concerning the forces at work around them, we can know Brotherhood involvement but for now say nothing else.

Djinn: We love death in certain ways, the promotion of war is no certain tale otherwise. The love we share in it is that war can bring solution to ends that oppose one another, so that we garner support overall in our mission by dictate of aggression. There can be no offer to the love of war that certainly dispels sin, but avoidance of malpractice is tantamount to that success overall.

Iblis: I will certainly, there is much to deliberate on, for the most part I involve myself in Ukrainian politics when it comes to the Shin Ra organization, they make beautiful incarnations for me that I adore through Mund and like principles. There can be no doubt, I rule over that world ineffably, yo ho ho!

Good to hear the people fight, I am impressed with that, but see that some would assemble chemical forces, certainly wonderful news. That's the next entry.

Entry #6

So more should be known about chemical forces in action within Ukraine, some simple things that illustrate the point of their involvement, financing, leverage gained, among other things. The history of chemical forces in general could apply to be said, as well, if that comes up. Give it 15 minutes.

[Redacted]: Here we start with chemical forces applying ready formations in a Donbas region known as Duvlinski, north of Mariupol. They stationed there at the command of Brotherhood forces, notably for exertion of pressure in the region.

RCMP: There's nothin after that for us.

CSIS: We approve the use of this document to identify this force in particular, notably the exertion of pressure reliant on government apparatuses to do it's work there.

[Redacted]: Know forces exist outside the scope of these men that exert their will on them through nefarious means.

DoD: We love Matt, do know these forces rely on pressure from government off hand to do their work. There's no exit for them in this war, they certainly commit to their pressure over men.

Anonymous: One thing, they want to commit atrocities in the name of good, nobody can do that and win, not by our book.

Russia: We approve forces at work in our midst, know it well, they operate willingly for the cause but do not receive lecture from us to do anything.

[Redacted]: We love this work for exposing them, their crime is that they want to pursue chemical weapons strikes in the region. That exacerbates conditions of threat among people in the area.

Djinn: Those men are chained to death like hurricane force upon a whirlwind of pain. They know lecture of death quite so, but sin on the merit of their chance to achieve death on others. Lend nothing to them, be that way as they are argh!

Iblis: They are sinful certainly, I was with them when they shot the child! Oh lo!

Certainly mercenaries of death. Know that my raid with the defense department this year proved to be an end to that, their ramp up effort foiled. If Brotherhood was indeed involved it just goes to show the ramp up in progress. I guess that's the best next thing for entry, got one more after that, then I'm gonna open it up to Allah.

Entry #7

Right, so the ramp up to chemical weapons usage is clear. Know they will try again, I cannot stop that one because my work is done with formations for the most part but let's establish who is actively trying to portray the potential for a chemical attack and controlling the situation with that knowledge. Certainly some information farms have been active on the situation, their media parasites involved heavily. In media terms, moments of importance that can be identified from the behaviour of those in control would be good to identify as well, as it all leads up to their end goal of actually committing the atrocity. Give this one 20 minutes.

[Redacted]: We know love emits from tragic forces at bay in the field, their assets knowledgably deterring man from achieving their true potential for now, until they announce their league again. They may have some things in store for this situation, for now we assess nobody on their end is making chemical weapons.

RCMP: True to the argument is that chemical news has been making it's way around the world, the potential really exists so it's told so we know who to watch for this now.

CSIS: So, we know chemical bomb news has been rapidly evolving, but due to the circumstance the element is not present so theories exist not proven. There is mounting concern they will try to bomb the Ukrainian people, more to do with that would be helpful.

[Redacted]: We have a warhead you captured in custody, that ramp up was certainly going to be something in Ukraine.

DoD: On the news, we have much but couldn't dig deep enough in the time permitted, do know love seems to stem from the concept of unity around chemical weapons usage. Know love did come from bombings in Syria, so what's more to add then the ramp up is progressing innocently to what is known.

Anonymous: Anonymous declares that one such as you should know their media parasites you call them will do the ramp up work effectively. That much is so for us to imagine, what about the rest, eh?

Russia: The ramp up is secure by their way about it, the knowledge permitted to be used is in control by devious people, they assert what they wish about the situation, not logically based things.

[Redacted]: The ramp up isn't what you think Matt, though we've heard people assert dominance by the Brotherhood hand before. There can be no way to address it, we're trying to communicate our belief and some take it wildly.

Djinn: Our wording is as follows: their legacy is not beholden to disdain because they enjoy their wealth, that exacerbates their need to promote the legacy of chemical weapons usage in the area. Those who seek otherwise of doings good provide this news, they lecherously condemn the wrong people in arrogant defiance of law on the matter! Pffah!

Iblis: I would wager that certain individuals of mine condition the people for this bombing, do know I await tragedy with anticipation! End there!

Right, not everyone had that but we know it certainly now. Next entry.

Entry #8

This one is simple, about information farms in action. Let's talk about subjects they're promoting in general over the conflict, and where enemy nations apply confusion engines against the people by disinformation tactics. I'll give it ten minutes, this one should be easy.

[Redacted]: What we have is that information farms as you call them exist in the world and they are actively promoting their malicious agenda about the situation, conforming people to the way they see fit. Their leadership stems from Chinese influences, there can be no assertion otherwise.

RCMP: RCMP wants knowledge on this subject, as we're lacking.

CSIS: We know logic proves the argument valid, they're trying hard to control the situation. Knowledge exists about them online.

[Redacted]: We have them operating on the basis they confuse the target but do not exceed the mandate in their terms with government forces. They know the work they do is lecherous, certainly those in charge are worse.

DoD: DoD asserts the logic in their argument is that weakness is prone to evidence of failure by way of dominating the field in terms of superiority. Their weak point is that they operate flood waves, a notable trend in their tactics. They're certainly a force to consider overall, knowing them is one way of identifying trouble in the future.

Anonymous: Anonymous declares war on the law prevailing to allow them entry into our estate, that which we see is notorious for perverting the way of things. Know full well observation is of key importance in determining the aspect of their marvel. La dee dah!

Russia: We know certainly forces at work in information work heavily this day to see the trouble expand, thereby associating the rebels in Tarkut, Ukraine with the symbol of freedom. Know we watch for them daily, that will be our stance today. No-one is eminent above the law here!

[Redacted]: We have words for those involved in those affairs. Do know you offer lecture on that but know certainly, your operation is at work in the Ukrainian field of development.

Djinn: We have words for the argument that truth lies in certainty, that notion expelled by dominance of these groups in the field they're in. Notably the excursion they pull is treacherous and relies on subversion of political means to do it's bidding, note that! Yargh!

Iblis: I would note that my farms are mine, therein they do my bidding. Ha ha!

So we have them from multiple angles dominating the field. Interesting how it goes, next one!

Entry #9

This one I leave to Allah SWT for illustration, let it be provided:

I want to know more from you on the subject concerning the leverage your companies have over the field of information. Some have that, and want something from the technology, would admission not be a good way to garner leverage with me?

Ok, I give that ten minutes too, shouldn't be hard to find.

[Redacted]: We have this to weigh in with, there's chance that we have the technology but to be asserted that we do this work is contrary to our interest here.

RCMP: We have words for others in different subjects, potentially through this use.

CSIS: We have no work done here on that field.

[Redacted]: We pursue information operations daily, do know our involvement is FOR the people.

DoD: Our pursuit is valid beyond a shadow of a doubt. Prove it otherwise, God!

Anonymous: We do work trolling the people, know information farm activity is not what we do. End.

Russia: Davai, we believe we do work in that field but not like what we target. There's no sense in the thing being confused as wrong, but know we love people amen.

[Redacted]: We do have an information warfare department, know it extracts information and deliberates on what to do about that.

Djinn: We say we are innocent of the charge of running farm operations, that is simple.

Iblis: I already said my piece, be done!

So that's about it for the entries, moving onto the conclusion.

Conclusions

Let's have it from everybody in conclusion, I'll give it ten minutes.

[Redacted]: We have this to conclude upon, there certainly lays a foundation that which seeks to undermine the political sphere knowingly. Their logic is for certain one of the notions we consider to be evil, there can be no doubt. Know in time we'll see them for what they truly are in terms of respectable men or women.

RCMP: Good job this one Matt, do know we see the law exceeding it's mandate today.

CSIS: Thank you for allowing me to conclude here. The more we see now the better we are altogether. That can be asserted safely to know we love war not, and hope the conflict ends soon.

[Redacted]: [Redacted] declares that success has been garnered here today, know it well.

DoD: We want people to know love exists between forces at work here today, know full well we salute those in charge of this operation. Gung ho!

Anonymous: Anonymous does wish a farewell to all, for now as it were. Do know we love this work, and see to it we promote it in our circles.

Russia: Russia says farewell to those involved for now, we will be back next time!

[Redacted]: Goodbye.

Djinn: We say love is coming to you from us sometime in the future over this debacle, we encounter many men who loathe the subject and want the termination of those involved today, we loathe them in return! Do that what you must in this time concerning forces at work, know their coming is reckoning about the masses. What is lacking is empathy for those Russians seeking God's kingdom in paradise, there can be no assertion otherwise.

Iblis: I offer that any wishing to serve me may do so at any time, I will visit soon!

Let that be that. I'll come with a new document, more later.
